STRATEGIC REFLEX TESTING

Strategy is critical in diagnostic testing.

StrataFLEX™, a strategic approach to laboratory medicine, moves clinicians easily through the testing process to save time and money.

PATIENT FOCUSED

With an array of laboratory testing available, ordering the most appropriate tests can be confusing. Molecular Pathology Laboratory Network, Inc. makes it easy with StrataFLEX.

Successful patient management begins with an accurate diagnosis, while effective treatment requires close monitoring.

StrataFLEX is a streamlined, step-by-step approach to patient-specific testing using evidence-based medicine.

- Strategic reflex testing process avoids unnecessary tests and excessive charges.
- Comprehensive test menu supports every stage of patient care.
- Complementary tests and results coordinated within one facility with rapid turnaround time.
- Sequential testing on a single sample ensures sample integrity and provides a complete diagnostic picture.

In-house multidisciplinary approach maximizes information, while minimizing patient cost.

PERSONAL, PROFESSIONAL CONSULTATIONS

Our pathologists and laboratory directors consult with one another and the ordering clinician to proactively solve individual cases and...

- Determine the best testing strategy for each patient sample.
- Recommend only the most appropriate reflex testing.
- Develop a strategy to monitor treatment efficacy.
- Provide all clinically-relevant findings on a synoptic report.
- Deliver a complete analysis without unnecessary tests.

Many reference laboratories are stressing the system financially and confusing physicians by performing unnecessary testing – MPLN is different.
